A Defaulting Savings Bank Treasurer Cuts his Throat.

POSSIBLE TROUBLE WITH CHILI

A Father's Pride Allows his Daughter to Starve—Tilden not Dissatisfied with the Administration—Frost in Minnesota

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Aug. 24.—Ex-Treasurer Adams of the Framingham Savings bank, whose accounts were last week made the subject of special investigation by Bank Commissioner Gatchell and whose resignation was requested, committed suicide at the bank this afternoon by cutting his throat. When found a revolver lay beside him which it is supposed he intended to use provided the razor did not accomplish the work. This forenoon the ex-treasurer, who all through the trouble which the bank has been experiencing for the past four days appeared to be very cool and collected, came to South Framingham from his Framingham Center home and went to one of the lawyers' residences in the Penobscot block, where the savings bank is located. During the forenoon he remained for some time and assisted in figuring up the interest [illegible] of depositors who came to-day to draw their money. Shortly after [illegible] o'clock Mr. Gatchell arrived at the lawyer's office and began to look over Adams' ledger. Adams then went down into the bank and killed himself. He leaves a widow, a daughter and two sons. Adams held a prominent [illegible] in the community [illegible].

A dispatch sent just previous to the suicide says the bank officials express the opinion that [illegible] the bank will be met in full. The [illegible] opinion generally exonerates Mr. Adams from any suspicion of dishonesty, but it is admitted that he has been very lax in his manner of doing business.

Mr. Gatchell has made a statement in which he says that there are many irregularities in the accounts. Adams's check book he says is in a very unsatisfactory condition. The stubs are not properly filled out, in some cases partly, in some cases blank. He and his son drew unknown sums [illegible] for their private business and Adams drew over $2,000 in the last two months for personal expenses. He was very lax in attending to the bank business. The interest on $12,000 [illegible] on mortgages was due last April, has not yet been collected, while much of it was far more in arrears. [illegible] the bank dividends had not been paid [illegible] and a half. The books are being examined by an expert.

A SENSATIONAL STORY.

BAR HARBOR, Maine, Aug. 24.—A sensational story has just leaked out here, the substance of which is as follows: When a prominent politician of New York city, a personal friend of Gen. Grant, was visiting the flag ship Tennessee with a party of ladies, a certain lieutenant on board who was still wearing mourning crape on his arm indulged in slanderous remarks against Gen. Grant's character and career. The politician became very angry. On his return to shore he sent the slanderer a challenge to fight a duel. The latter declined on the grounds that dueling is in violation of the navy regulations. The irate gentleman then notified the officer that he would shoot him on sight unless he accepted. The lieutenant finally accepted, but while the preliminaries were being arranged the admiral heard rumors of the affair and declined to permit the lieutenant to go ashore, thus frustrating the duel for the present at least.

THE NAMES GIVEN.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 24.—A story is going the rounds to the following effect and has caused a sensation here: Hon. Alfred R. Conkling of New York, nephew of Roscoe Conkling, a few days ago was in the company of a lieutenant in the navy when the latter indulged in some remarks derogatory to Gen. Grant's character. Conkling denounced the lieutenant and subsequently sent him a challenge to fight a duel. The latter declined on the ground that it was contrary to the navy regulations. Thereupon Conkling sent him word he would shoot him on sight. The lieutenant then accepted the challenge, but the admiral interfered and prevented him from leaving his ship. Both Conkling and the officers of the vessel decline to give the lieutenant's name.

THE KNIGHTS OF LABOR STRIKE.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—There were very few new developments in the railroad strike here to-day. The Wabash committee of the Knights of Labor say they do not apprehend a general strike, at least for the present. The members of the Knights of Labor in the bridge company's yards here informed the superintendent this morning that they would not handle Wabash engines. The answer was that they need not do so and that extra men would be employed for the work.

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 24.—The situation regarding the Wabash difficulties has not materially changed. Some of the Knights of Labor are reported to have refused to handle Wabash cars, but the officials state that business is not affected.

PRIDE VS. STARVATION.

TRIP[illegible], Ia., Aug. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Victor La[illegible], poor but very proud people, entered the poor director's office yesterday bringing their beautiful young daughter, who was dying for want of food and medicine. "For God's sake give her some food," said the man, struggling with his pride and former station in life. When it came to their turn to be waited upon and they were about to press their child to corroborate their story, it was found she had died while waiting for her turn. The parents, who had kept their sufferings secret from their many neighbors, were with difficulty restrained from committing suicide.

MR. TILDEN NOT DISSATISFIED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—There is no truth in the article published in the Mail and Express of this city to the effect that Mr. Tilden has expressed any dissatisfaction with the administration of President Cleveland. The Daily News has taken pains to learn this fact from a gentleman in the confidence of Mr. Tilden, who visited him for the purpose of getting the ex-governor's statement. This brief and emphatic information is obtained and is authoritatively given. Ex-Gov. Tilden denies the statement that there is any misunderstanding or unpleasantness between him and President Cleveland, as has been stated in several papers.

THE CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY.

CHAUTAUQUA, Aug. 24.—The closing exercises of the Twelfth Chautauqua assembly commenced at 8 A. M. and closed at 9:15. Appropriate addresses were made by Chancellor Vance, of the Chautauqua university and the superintendent of the assembly, Lewis Miller, of Akron, Ohio, president of the assembly and university, and Gen. Clinton B. Fiske of New York. W. H. Sherwin of the Boston conservatory of music announced the organization of a Chautauqua musical reading club. The Chautauqua annex for the season will continue the exercises until Friday noon.

DR. BURCHARD'S LIFE A BURDEN.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Rev. Dr. Burchard wanders around Saratoga like a ghost of an old gentleman. Although he looks very calm and serene, as if he had the clearest of consciences, yet he cannot be very comfortable. He is one of the [illegible] men now living. Wherever he [illegible] he is followed by the [illegible] "That is Cleveland's best friend" are the constant exclamations uttered in his hearing. He looks very patient under this fire.

TRYING TO OUST BEECHER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Rumors have recently been afloat that Beecher is to be retired from Plymouth church. These rumors are denied almost officially. The World says one reason is that of Beecher's attitude during the recent campaign. Another fact is that the divine is rapidly nearing the age of four score and therefore will soon be unable to fulfill many of the duties demanded by such an exacting congregation. Still others, it is said, are determined to dispense with Beecher's services because rumors are afloat that he is bankrupt.

RECEPTION ON BOARD THE TENNESSEE.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 24.—About all the prominent visitors to this resort attended a reception on board the Tennessee this afternoon, at which there was dancing and a concert by the Marine band. Among the guests were the Russian minister and Mr. and Mrs. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was received with great enthusiasm and a salute of twelve guns was fired in his honor. Blaine will buy land and build a residence here. He is in excellent health.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A MERCHANT.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The Record this morning says: Charles A. Gambrill, a wealthy Baltimore merchant, died suddenly at the Continental hotel last night under peculiar circumstances. Mr. Gambrill arrived at the hotel Friday last and since is said to have been drinking heavily. A number of empty bottles were found in his room, one of which had contained spirits of ammonia and another valerian. Both of these were empty.

FROST IN MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 24.—The signal service here has advices which report that a killing frost occurred last night over the greater portion of the Northwest territory, extending southward to the northern part of Minnesota. The temperature fell to 2 degrees above zero at St. Vincent. The air here in St. Paul is crisp and chilly, but there was no frost. The visitors are leaving the lakes in large parties to-day for the South.

A STEAM DREDGE LOST.

BEAUFORT, S. C., Aug. 24.—The steamship Alexandria, which arrived here yesterday, reports the loss of the Scotch steam dredge Beaufort, on August 8. Captain Bonny and his crew of ten or twelve men are believed to have all been lost. The Beaufort cleared from Savannah July 20 for Greenock, Scotland.

DAMAGE TO THE NEW YORK HOP CROP.

UTICA, Aug. 24.—The frequent and heavy rains of the past week and the muggy weather have done much damage to the hop crop. Reports from Madison and southern Oneida counties represent that rot is making sad havoc. The growth of the vine has been luxuriant and the fruit is very abundant. Dampness has held on tenaciously [illegible] an unprecedented [illegible]. The picking of early varieties will begin during the present week.

SUICIDE OF A PREACHER.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 24.—Rev. S. S. [illegible], minister of the M. E. church at Green Spring, committed suicide yesterday by jumping from a window and fracturing his skull. He was laboring under a fit of temporary insanity.

FIRST PRESENTATION OF A PLAY.

DENVER, Aug. 24.—The initial presentation of "A [illegible] of His Own" was given by Mr. Louis [illegible] company at the Tabor Grand Opera house this evening. The play was received with marked favor by a cultivated audience.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

[illegible] EXPENDITURE OF PUBLIC FUNDS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A Washington special to the Sun says the treasury commission which has been investigating the office of the supervising architect has ordered the suspension of all payments in the case of the new postoffice building in Kansas City. A bad state of things has been developed there. At the last session of congress $[illegible] was appropriated for the completion of the approaches to the building, for a clock and for sewer connections. On the strength of this appropriation the citizens subscribed $15,000 for a fine clock bell which was to enable the residents of the city and vicinity, within a radius of six miles, to keep the run of their watches by [illegible]. [illegible] The result is that the accounts are [illegible] of public funds.

LAMAR TAKES THINGS EASY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—According to a prominent official of the interior department, Secretary Lamar is relapsing into his old habits of forgetfulness and absent-mindedness which distinguished him while in the United States senate. When Mr. Lamar was appointed there was a general feeling that he was not enough of a practical worker to attend to the great mass of business in the interior department. At first the secretary [illegible] surprised his critics. Lately, however, he has gone back to his old habits with a vengeance and the bureau officials are greatly concerned about the work. They say that in the most [illegible] duties the secretary will walk out [illegible] stroll down to the room of one of his subordinates and talk for hours about the [illegible] the secession movement, etc. At other times Mr. Lamar will go out for a few minutes' walk and forget to come back all day. He is [illegible] takes things easy here, after [illegible] and dreams on.

MORE EXPENSES TO BE ALLOWED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—First Comptroller Durham and Solicitor McCue held a conference with Assistant Secretary [illegible] to-day in regard to the settlement of the expense accounts of the court of commissioners on the Alabama claims, which it is alleged [illegible] very loose and extravagant business methods on the part of the court. The result of the conference is not positively known, but it is understood that the first comptroller was advised to disallow a large number of items aggregating many thousand dollars, including charges for several special attorneys, the necessity for whose employment is questioned by the accounting officers. An official statement in regard to the matter will be made at the treasury department to-morrow.

MANNING SAYS IT'S A LIE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A gentleman of the highest political and social standing in this city said to-night in referring to the reported rupture between Gov. Tilden and President Cleveland: "I have this statement from Secretary Manning, which I am authorized to give you: 'The publication in the Mail and Express of New York to the effect that Gov. Tilden has expressed himself as displeased with the administration of President Cleveland is an unmitigated untruth. The story relating to my visit to the governor, so far as it asserts that I went to conciliate the governor with this administration, is too silly to need any denial. The statement that there were any words between him and Mr. Weed [illegible] or any other matter is a lie.'"

THE UTES STARVING.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Adjutant General Drum to-day received a dispatch from the officer commanding in New Mexico saying that the southern Utes in that territory were starving, that they have no supplies and were unable to procure any, and that unless food is immediately secured for them they would go on the war path. These are the same Indians that a few weeks ago were reported to be without food and in a starving condition. Temporary relief was afforded them by drawing on the military stores.

HAS NOT BEEN BOUGHT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Admiral [illegible] to-day received the following dispatch from President Cardenas of Nicaragua: "The Estrella de Guatemala publishes to-day alleged documents asserting that the directors of the Panama canal have purchased the president of Nicaragua in order to prevent the construction of the Nicaragua canal. This is a vile calumny which I repel with indignation and have directed to deny emphatically and prosecute the perpetrators before the proper tribunal. Be good enough to publish this in Washington."

[illegible] HAVE BEEN DONE BEFORE.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—In view of the fact that the appropriation of $5000 for expenses incurred in executing the provisions of the Chinese restriction act is exhausted, it has been found necessary to dispense with the services of the Chinese interpreter at San Francisco and the deputy collector at Port Townsend, both of whom were paid out of that appropriation. No embarrassment will result from this action, as the duties of the two suspended officers can be performed by the officers in the customs service.

STOPPED SENDING GOLD COIN.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The publicity given to the fact that United States Treasurer Hall had resumed the transfer of gold coin from San Francisco to New York by registered mail has again caused a suspension of that mode of transportation. It is not expected any more gold will be sent through the mails for some time.

MUST ACCEPT COURT RECORDS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The solicitor of the treasury has given an opinion that disbursing officers in the payment of interest on United States coupon bonds must accept court records of administration, execution, etc., when verified according to the law of the state where the records were filed.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINATIONS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Judge Thomas of the civil service commission will conduct examinations for departmental service at Helena, Montana, September 15, Portland September 19, Seattle, W. T., September 22 and San Francisco October 1.

ISSUE OF SILVER DOLLARS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The issue of standard [illegible] the corresponding period last year was [illegible].

MINISTER KELLEY COMING HOME.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Minister Kelley is expected to arrive in New York within a few days. He sailed for home on the 15th inst.

SPORTING NOTES.

BASEBALL CONFERENCE.

SARATOGA, Aug. 24.—A meeting of the joint conference committees of the National baseball league and American association was held to-day. The league was represented by A. H. Soden of Boston, A. G. Spalding of Chicago and J. B. Day of New York, and the association by C. Von der Ahe of St. Louis, C. A. Byrne of Brooklyn and Lewis Simmons of Philadelphia. After a thorough discussion plans were adopted governing the future course of the two bodies. It was resolved not to advance money to players in future contracts, and it was further determined to have the clubs of the two associations pledge themselves not to negotiate for contract with any player under contract with any league or association club prior to the 20th of October next. It was also agreed that after the close of the championship season the clubs of the association would not interchange games. Other minor matters were discussed and passed upon by the committee, to be reported to the associations for approval. The conference was entirely harmonious.

THE YACHT RACING.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The third of the series of trial races between the Puritan and Priscilla was sailed to-day. The Puritan came in winner by forty one seconds actual time. The correct timing gives the Puritan the race by one minute and fifty-two seconds. Of the three trial races the Puritan won the first in a strong breeze by ten minutes. The Priscilla won second in extremely light weather by six and a half minutes and the Puritan won the deciding contest in a moderate breeze and smooth water. While not actually decided that she is the yacht that will be selected to defend the America's cup, it is almost certain that she will be chosen at the meeting of the New York yacht club to be held during the week.

A Slave Trade in Young Girls Carried on in Russia.

EXTENT OF THE CHOLERA RAVAGES

Germany Talks Pacifically but Evidently Does not Intend to Yield Possession of the Caroline Islands to Spain

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The results of the Pall Mall Gazette agitation are visible all over Great Britain and the continent. Reports of outrages upon females in France, Germany and Italy have so alarmed [illegible] the French government has instructed its police to exercise additional stringency. [illegible] In Amsterdam, Rotterdam, Hamburg and other points, houses of this character have been visited by the police and all their female inmates have been ordered out unless certified to be 18 years old or over. Reports via the English consulate at Jassy on the white slave trade between Roumania and other parts of Europe state that girls gathered together at Jassy are chiefly sent to Prussia, Austria and Russia. The leading traders' depot is at Odessa. German girls gathered at the Prussian frontier are exported to Riga or Wilna, where Russian merchants have the first opportunity of selection for St. Petersburg and Moscow. The next best paying station is Nijni Novgorod, whence girls are distributed between Southern Russia and Siberia.

THE PALL MALL GAZETTE'S ENEMIES.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The Tribune's cablegram says: Respectable papers in London continue to publish letters protesting against the [illegible] of London. The Bishop of St. David's speaks [illegible] the Gazette constitutes perhaps the greatest offense against public decency and morality ever committed in an even nominally Christian country.

THE CHOLERA.

THE SPREAD OF THE DISEASE.

MADRID, Aug. 24.—The following statistics show the increase in the number of cases of cholera and in the number of deaths therefrom in the principal infected districts of Spain yesterday, compared with the 20th inst.: [illegible] In Alicante there were new cases 111, 37 more deaths. In Barcelona 90 cases and [illegible] deaths. In Cuenca [illegible] cases and 87 deaths. In Madrid [illegible] cases and [illegible] deaths. In Teruel 31 cases and 30 deaths. In Valladolid 18 cases and 20 deaths. In Almeria 40 cases and [illegible] deaths. In Cordova 8 cases and 14 deaths. In Logrono 40 cases and 10 deaths. In Navarra [illegible] cases and 108 deaths. In Albacete the new cases reported for the twenty four hours ending with yesterday were 70 less and the deaths 20 less than the number reported on the 20th. In Granada new cases 71 less and deaths 10 less. In Valencia there were 117 cases and 12 deaths less, and in Saragossa new cases 139 less and deaths 61 less.

AT MARSEILLES.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 24.—There have been 10 deaths from cholera here during the past two days.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 24.—It is the noon hour and the situation is already alarming. Within the past forty-eight hours 700 new cases have been admitted to the Pharo hospital, and during the same period 600 deaths from the disease have been reported within the city limits, besides a large number in the southern suburbs.

OVER 2000 DEAD.

MADRID, Aug. 24.—The total number of deaths from cholera in Spain since the outbreak of the disease has been [illegible], out of a total of [illegible] cases.

NEARLY 2000 A DAY.

MADRID, Aug. 24.—The number of new cases of cholera in Spain yesterday was [illegible]; deaths [illegible].

AT TOULON.

TOULON, Aug. 24.—Fifty persons died here during the past forty-eight hours from cholera.

THE SPANISH-GERMAN TROUBLE.

A CABINET COUNCIL.

MADRID, Aug. 24.—A cabinet council was held to-day to consider the relations of Spain with Germany growing out of the Carolines trouble. King Alfonso, who had just returned to Madrid from La Granja, presided. It was officially announced that the reply from Germany to the first Spanish note of protest proposed an amicable discussion of the question at issue. Spain then sent fresh telegrams to Germany energetically protesting against the action of Germany, in response to which the government to-day telegraphed a reply explaining that its action had been animated altogether by friendly motives and that Germany regarded the affair as unworthy of interrupting the ancient amity between the two nations. The reply further explains that Germany, seeing no evidences of Spanish domination in the Carolines, thought the islands had been virtually abandoned. The German government does not mention whether any of the islands have been actually occupied.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—The North German Gazette refutes the Spanish claims to the Caroline islands; points out that in March 1875 England and Germany simultaneously sent notes in which they resisted such claims, and that for ten years Spain raised no objection. The German note notified Spain that Germany was unable to recognize the Spanish sovereignty or power of levying customs in the Caroline islands, inasmuch as no treaty was known to exist relating to Spanish possessions in the Pacific, while it was notorious that no Spanish official existed at the Pelew or Caroline islands. The note concluded with an expression of a hope that Spain would instruct her colonial authorities, the commanders of her men-of-war and her consuls in Eastern Asia and Polynesia, not to obstruct Germany's direct trade with the Carolines. The English note concluded with a declaration that England did not admit the right of Spain to the Caroline and Pelew islands, where she had never exercised and did not then exercise actual dominion.

MADRID, Aug. 24.—Anti-German demonstrations similar to the one in Madrid were made in various of the Spanish provinces yesterday.

U. S. OF COLOMBIA.

ASPINWALL FIREBUG CAUGHT.

PANAMA, Aug. 24.—The principal topic of interest on the isthmus at present is the capture of Prestan and his return to Aspinwall under guard, to be tried for his connection with the deliberate burning of that town. He was captured in Santa Marta after a brief but ineffectual resistance. He was severely wounded. He arrived on the 11th inst. A court martial will assemble to-morrow to try him. There seems little doubt that he will be condemned to death on landing at Aspinwall. He was perhaps less concerned than the people who had him in charge, and walked to his prison with a cigar in his mouth, perfectly indifferent to the maledictions of his enemies and the applause of his friends or the sneers and contempt of the populace.

IRELAND.

BANQUET TO PARNELL.

DUBLIN, Aug. 24.—At a banquet to Mr. Parnell this evening thirty-eight Parnellites were present. Loyal toasts were omitted. Mr. Parnell eulogized his followers for their courage and self-denial. He said there was only one thing on their programme, to restore the Irish parliament. When that parliament assembled in Dublin it would develop the [illegible] clauses of the land act, make tenants the owners of their holdings and secure to laborers a share in the land. Mr. Parnell dwelt upon the importance of securing loyal and self-denying members in the next parliament for the final battle for home rule, before which he hoped to pass further remedial measures. He sketched the tasks of the Dublin parliament, which would consist of a single chamber. He hoped that the coming party would be strong enough to restore the independence of Ireland. Justin McCarthy presided at the banquet. In Sackville street an enormous crowd collected and cheered incessantly during the banquet.

TO BE PROSECUTED FOR RECEIVING PAY.

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—Bismarck has ordered the civil prosecution of socialist deputies receiving pay for official service through contributions of their party. He bases his action on article 32 of the constitution, which says members of parliament must neither receive salary nor indemnity for services in parliament. The defense will take the ground that the action refers to payment from the budget and empire, and does not interdict party assistance. The question excites great interest in political circles.

A CONQUERING ARMY.

One Hundred Thousand Mohammedans March through the Interior of Africa, Annihilating Kingdoms.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Secretary of State Bayard is in receipt of a dispatch from Sierra Leone giving accounts of the movements of an army of 100,000 men in the interior of Africa. The dispatch is dated July 14th last and was sent by U. S. Consul Lewis. Mr. Lewis says:

"I have the honor to bring to the notice of the department of state the fact of an extraordinary movement among the Mohammedans of the Niger regions, extending from Timbuctoo to the west coast. It appears that a Mandingo named Lamadu, of extraordinary intelligence and energy, conceived the idea that he was called of God to wage a war for the suppression of paganism and also for the purpose of opening the roads to the coast, which certain districts have been for generations subjected to excessive blackmail and to the plundering of vagabond tribes. During the last five years he has collected an army consisting of foot and horse of about 100,000 men. The Mohammedan youth wherever he goes flock to his standard, anxious not only to secure the reward in the hereafter promised to those who fight for their religion, but to carry off the rich spoils of towns which these expeditions that battle for the faith are sure to win. It is said that Lamadu's army is divided into three portions. One is operating near the head waters of the Niger. This portion recently drove certain French troops from the gold fields of Bouré, of which they had taken possession [illegible]. Another portion of the army is operating in the region east of Liberia and by suppressing [illegible] [illegible] America [illegible].

THE AFRICA AMERICAN REPUBLIC.

To the healthy regions of the interior. In another sense it is forestalling the whole region for Mohammedanism and making it difficult if not impossible [illegible] desirable to convert that country to the faith imported from America by the immigrants. The third portion of the army is approaching the coast a few miles northwest of Sierra Leone. It has secured the submission, by force or by voluntary surrender, of all the tribes on the way for 300 miles back. The largest and most important kingdom on this side of the Niger was Soolima, of which Falaba, a large commercial city, was the capital. For the last sixty years the Fulah Mohammedans had been trying by diplomacy and arms to bring this city to their faith, but it has always successfully resisted both. [illegible] Last year Lamadu's army in overwhelming numbers surrounded it and called upon the king to surrender and profess the faith of Islam. This he refused to do. The town was then invested, and after a terrible siege [illegible] the king assembled the royal family and the principal chiefs in his powder house, [illegible] then that he could hold out no longer as his resources were exhausted, but that Falaba for more than 80 years belonged to the [illegible] and he was determined for himself and family to die rather than come under Mohammedan rule. He gave the chiefs their choice either to die with him or to go out of the town and give themselves up to the enemy. They decided to die with him. He then set fire to the powder and they were all blown up. This ended the Soolima power, which for more than seventy years had [illegible] the road [illegible] commanded the principal highway to the coast. Another very important achievement of this army is the

DESTRUCTION OF THE HOOBOO POWER,

[illegible] a strong organization which for thirty years has been a source of annoyance and loss to [illegible] traveling from the interior to the coast. Lamadu gave orders to attack them in their mountain strongholds, which until then had proved inaccessible to the neighboring forces. They were surprised, their chief, Abol, was captured and decapitated, and his arms and legs severed from the trunk were sent to the various countries whose inhabitants had suffered from his depredatory and murderous proceedings. The Hooboos are described as renegade Foulahs in the rebellion against King Timboo. The roads have now been cleared of these marauders, so that an unprotected child or female may travel in safety all through that district. These operations will not be without a salutary effect upon American commerce, for there is in that country an increasing demand for American productions, and many of the articles produced by the people are valuable in the American trade. Lamadu's army is now only a few miles from the coast northwest from Sierra Leone. It is said to be their purpose now to deal with the Timmanee and Sherbro countries, whose constant wars keep maritime regions in such a state of ferment that often the caravans have struggled through obstructions for hundreds of miles. This finds that their greatest [illegible] is among the coast tribes and often fall victims to the latter."

TROUBLE AHEAD.

The Administration Likely to have Trouble with Chili—The Causes that are to Bring this About.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A Washington special says: An experienced diplomat has been giving his views respecting the administration's foreign policy and the likelihood of a rupture with any of our neighbors. After referring to several snubs which he says the United States has received from Chili in the last three years, he says: "But there is something coming very soon that will bring the matter to a head. It is this: The most important mercantile firm in Peru is American. It is the house of Wm. R. Grace & Co. For years they have monopolized certain branches of commerce which have been exceedingly profitable. The head of the firm is now resident in New York. During the war between Chili and Peru there was great damage done by Chili to the property of foreigners, mostly Americans, and particularly to that of Grace. This house was especially obnoxious to Chili because it stood by the Peruvian government as long as it could render any service, and without this warlike material brought into Peru by it that unhappy country would have surrendered to Chili long before it did. All this the Chilians know, and when they occupied Peru they were harsh to all Americans and to Grace's house in particular. This firm has a large claim for damages against Chili which it will soon present to that government and demand a settlement, which it expects will be contemptuously refused. It will then invoke the power of the United States. The mayor is a person and as the autumn elections in New York are soon to occur, it is important that the administration should maintain the best relations with him. The cause of this arrogance on the part of Chili is because of her close commercial relations with England. Four fifths of the entire business of that country is with English merchants. The new American minister to Chili is William R. Roberts of New York. By birth he is an Irishman and was a Fenian head center many years ago. He hates England with an intensity that only an Irishman can feel when he believes his birth land is oppressed and down trodden. Now we will see the situation. I think it entirely probable that Chili will snub [illegible] American minister [illegible] the New York firm will present its [illegible] through our minister, who will then refer the matter to his government at home, asking at the same time for instructions. The New York merchants will ask the administration whether they are to be protected or not, and then will come the final act. From what I know of the matter I should say the case is one in which our government will be obliged to interfere, if it is necessary, to compel the payment of the indemnity demands. How far Chili will maintain its pretensions I cannot say."

An Important Decision in the Chinese Restriction Cases.

SPRECKLES STILL SUGAR KING.

The Town of Pasco, W. T., Destroyed by Fire—A Passenger Train in Arizona Ditched—A Victim of Garroters Dies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—In the United States circuit court to-day Judge Sawyer rendered a decision in the two Chinese habeas corpus cases of Sin Hing and Si Yee, allowing them to take an appeal from the United States district court to the supreme court of the United States. Judge Hoffman in the district court had decided that they were not entitled to land. The effect of Judge Sawyer's decision will be to give every Chinaman who wants to get into this country the right of appeal to the supreme court of the United States. Referring to Judge Sawyer's decision of to-day, in which he allowed two Chinamen who had been remanded back to China by Judge Hoffman to take an appeal to the supreme court of the United States, Senator John F. Miller suggests that the congressmen and senators of California meet the federal judges and consult as to any amendments to the restriction act which would make it more effective, and if it can be shown where the act can be made so, a bill will be introduced into congress to that purpose.

DECISION IN THE CITY'S FAVOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The famous case of [illegible] the city and county of San Francisco, known as the Montgomery avenue bond case, was decided in the United States circuit court to-day by Justice Field of the United States supreme court. Justice Field's decision is in favor of the city and county and against all holders of the bonds. The case was an action to compel the city and county to pay the interest on coupons attached to the bonds, for judgment that coupons are valid obligations of the city and county, and for interest at 7 per cent per annum to be paid from a special tax to be annually paid according to the provisions of an act of legislature. The suit arises out of the opening of Montgomery avenue and the [illegible] of private property for that purpose. The street was opened and the bonds of the city and county were issued by the board of public works, comprising the mayor, tax collector and surveyor of the city and county of San Francisco. These bonds were issued to the property owners who were damaged by this public improvement. The decision adds that the bonds are not obligations of the city and county, as they were issued by the board of public works, who were not authorized agents of the city and county.

GARROTED AND ROBBED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Ernest Messer was found in an unconscious condition with a contused scalp wound on his head yesterday on Howard street between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. His pockets were turned inside out as if they had been rifled. He was taken to the receiving hospital. He died in a few minutes after reaching there. It is believed he was attacked and robbed by garroters while on his way home. No clue to the perpetrators of this crime has been found.

SUGAR TALK.

Claus Spreckles Laughs at the Idea that he will be Forced to Close his Refinery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—In regard to the announcement that the American Sugar Refinery has obtained control of about five-sevenths of the sugar crop of the Hawaiian Islands for this year, and that the California refinery owned by Claus Spreckels would be driven to suspension of operations for want of sugar, Claus Spreckels gives an explanation of the situation as follows: "A short time ago Mr. Low and I controlled the American refinery. He owned 1000 shares, I owned 1000 shares and the other 1000 shares were divided up among the stockholders. I made examination of the books and saw that the refinery was losing 11 per cent of the sugar in the refining process. I told Mr. [illegible] that that would not do, that I would not stay in a concern that lost 11 per cent of the sugar in the process of refining. I drew out of the company, I sold my third interest, and I believe Mr. Low has sold nearly all of his third also. Now I got out of that concern voluntarily. I got out because it was losing money. If there had been the slightest prospect of its ever coming into dangerous competition with my refinery I would have kept control of it, but I withdrew knowing exactly what I was doing.

"When I withdrew from the American refinery that company then put down the price for the purpose of cutting into my business, but they could only make 200 barrels of sugar a day and the demand is about [illegible]000 on this coast. I said that we would let them sell their sugar at a low rate. I would never run at a loss. I fixed the price so that I made about [illegible] cents on a 100 pounds, and kept it there. The American refinery sold its 200 barrels a day and we sold the rest. We sell $45,000 worth of sugar a day. While this thing is a bluff, I propose to go along as I have been, buying raw sugar and paying cash for it and refining it by the best and cheapest method. No one has any monopoly of the raw product. The product of Manila is [illegible] tons and of all the Phillipine islands 500,000 tons, but this is not all. The product of Central America runs away up into the thousands. Now all this raw sugar is in market for sale. It costs the refiner here precisely the same as Hawaiian sugar. It is the general opinion that because of the reciprocity treaty Hawaiian sugar is cheaper in this market than Manila sugar [illegible]. I pay just as much to the planters of the Hawaiian Islands as I do to the Manilla planters."

Mr. Spreckels being asked how it was that Hawaiian sugar which comes in without duty costs as much as Manila sugar which has to pay a duty, replied: "The planters in the Hawaiian islands get the benefit of the duty. I have always paid them just as much as I do the Manila planters. If a man owns a plantation in the Sandwich Islands he gets the benefit of the treaty, but the refineries in this city gain nothing by securing Hawaiian sugar rather than Manila sugar."

TOWN OF PASCO BURNED.

WALLA WALLA, Aug. 24.—A greater portion of the town of Pasco, W. T., was burned Sunday morning. The fire originated in Shaffer's saloon. That whole block was burned. An incendiary attempt was also made to burn the Pasco house, owned by the railroad, with burning rags thrown through the window. The losses are: John Shaffer, three houses, $1,500; Toles & Co.'s store, $3,000; Mr. Conner's house, $250; McIntyre's restaurant, $100; J. A. Gottenheim, damaged, $100; J. F. ## WAS THE MONEY WASTED?

A great deal has been said of late about the vast expenditures made on account of our navy during the last twenty years, with nothing to show for them. It is a fact that the whole expenditure on this account during the twenty years has been not far from $100,000,000, or $20,000,000 a year. But only a small part of this sum has gone into the actual construction of ships. The greater part of it has been expended in maintaining navy yards, paying the officers and men and keeping up "the establishment." Many millions have, indeed, been expended in altering or repairing old vessels, under a faulty system; but it should be remembered that the last twenty years have constituted a transition period in naval architecture, and the losses which our country has made in its experiments with vessels and through efforts to keep up with necessary changes have been nothing compared with those which have been entailed upon other nations by the same causes.

It is easy to say that money expended upon a tentative and experimental scheme is "thrown away." But it is only through such efforts that men are able to reach final results. The vessels of our little iron-clad fleet that did so excellent service during our great war would be useless now. Yet it was those vessels that led to the great revolution that has taken place in ships of war and their armament. Progress goes by successive steps. We cannot have the last steps without taking the first.

Before 1862 the English navy consisted of wooden unarmored vessels, both side-wheel and screw, fitted with simple engines, together with some sailing vessels. England then had no iron-clads afloat. But after the outbreak of our war, when the performance of our little Monitor at Hampton Roads had shown that all vessels of the old class were useless, England immediately began the work of building a new and most formidable navy. Her first effort was the construction of fifteen new iron-clads, and more than this, her board of admiralty determined to convert into iron-clads some of her most suitable wooden liners. It was hoped by this plan to render available for the new system of naval construction and warfare some portions of the nation's property in wooden ships, which had cost hundreds of millions. But the vessels so constructed or altered proved useless. The old navy became a total loss, and the vast sums that were expended in making alterations were lost also. Then another remarkable change took place. The compound engines supplanted the single engines, and the English navy was virtually rubbed out again. Now the money that had been so expended was not "thrown away." Its expenditure was the means through which a result was reached. But if the policy is to be called "wasteful," then England has wasted far greater sums than the United States, or any other nation in the world.

On new armored ships our expenditure has been so trifling as scarcely to furnish a basis of comparison with that of any other country. The New York Sun shows that the whole expenditure since the war on new vessels, including construction and repairs, has been but $7,446,781. England has spent on new vessels since the last changes compelled her to remodel her navy more than $200,000,000. France has expended nearly or quite as much. Russia has put $100,000,000 into new armored vessels. Italy over $60,000,000 and even such petty states as Holland and Chile have provided themselves with naval armaments against which the United States could not, upon any sudden emergency, possibly contend.

Our government has thrown away money upon the old system as other governments have done, though in much smaller amounts than England and France; but what it has not pushed, as they have, is the construction of a new navy, on modern principles. They have condemned old fleets, built on false plans and obsolete principles, and have built new ones. We have spent our money as they did on old vessels, but unlike them, have not put any considerable sum into the construction of new. The English admiralty, in attempting to work old vessels over expended in many instances more money upon them than their original cost, and then found them worthless. We have gone through the same experience. But it is only fair to say that our navy department abandoned this policy a considerable time ago, having learned the uselessness of the effort to change old vessels, constructed on obsolete plans, into new ones fit for modern service.

THE STATE UNIVERSITY.

The report of the president of the regents to the governor, printed yesterday, shows the state university to be prosperous as a school and in its finances. The number of students enrolled in the collegiate department during the year was 144, all things considered, a large attendance. The receipts of money for the year amounted to $19,822 85, not including a balance of $1121 04 left over from last year. The whole expense of the year amounted to $18,155 16. There now remains in the treasury available for general uses $2,291 73. It will be seen by examination of the statement of disbursements that the management has been economical and careful, and that the whole fund is clearly accounted for.

The appropriation made by the legislature at its last session for an additional building suitable for the use of the university, is being expended by the regents in the manner authorized. It is expected that the new building will be ready for use at the beginning of the coming school year, or shortly after. It will afford facilities long needed, and its erection will mark a definite forward step in the career of the university.

We cannot enter into the many important details in the president's report, indeed nothing has been left unsaid; but the action of the regents in abolishing the "so-called normal course," deserves particularly to be commended. The normal course, as it was attached to the university, was simply a device to graduate a large class each year upon a low and easy standard and its effect was to depreciate the value of genuine graduation. In this matter the regents have shown better wisdom than the legislature, which has been for two free in granting normal charters to schools which are not normal schools at all. Leaving out of the question the propriety of normal education under state authority and at state cost, the legislature has done wrong in designating as normal schools a number of local establishments which are nothing more in fact, than academies. The state should not have divided its educational effort till in the future, when a college might properly have been established somewhere in eastern Oregon. Two state schools in the Willamette valley and none elsewhere, is a manifest injustice.

It is to be hoped that the time will come soon when the primary or so-called "preparatory department" of the state university can be abolished. Such a department is a positive discredit to a school of the rank of our state university. It has been continued under a general policy of "respect for small things" necessary under all the circumstances, and its abolition must be expected as an effect of the general development. The regents have realized that a university, to be successful, and in harmony with its situation, must be a growth, and that the conditions of educational effort, population and financial resources in Oregon must make the growth here slow. A considerable advance upon the "country college" status has been made during the past five or six years, and progress may be expected to be more rapid in the future. The state university ought to be the pride of our people, and its diploma ought indeed to be a "patent of honor."

It would be ungracious to omit from any discussion of the university a word of acknowledgement of the important services freely rendered by the board of regents, and particularly by its president, Judge Matthew P. Deady, who has devoted so much time and interest to this labor of love. It is not too much to say of Judge Deady that he has been and is the chief promoter of public higher education in this state. His efforts have secured for the university a score of important advantages, and to them may be traced directly its present status. To turn to smaller matters, Judge Deady's annual reports are models of complete and clear statement, and their method might profitably be copied by others who have to report upon the management of public affairs and the expenditure of public money.

The impression appears to be general that the leases of Indian lands to cattlemen, about which there has been so great an uproar lately, was the work of former administrations at Washington, which the present administration has resolved to reverse. The fact is, however, that the lands were leased to the cattlemen by the Indians themselves, and to the Indians the rental money has been paid. Owners of cattle wishing to avail themselves of the pasturage secured the consent of Indian chiefs, on the payment of a certain rent. In the case of the Arapahoes there are eight leases, running for ten years at two cents an acre. These leases cover over 3,000,000 acres, giving the chiefs an income of over $60,000. Thus these Indian barons have enjoyed a good thing. The Cherokees secured $100,000, the Osages $9000, the Sacs and Foxes $50,000, the Pottawatomies $60,000 and a few others similar chunks. These sums paid to the Indians have been important items, and easily explain why they so vigorously oppose occupation by the whites and refuse all overtures to treat for surrender of the lands. The Indians are credited with holding the lands by what are termed "Indian titles," and are prohibited by law from disposing of any privileges that their titles secure to them. This is the ground on which the government has interposed to terminate the leases and order the cattlemen off.

The debt of the United States which was very large at the close of the war, twenty years ago, has been so largely decreased in that time under republican management that the debt of this country now is very small compared to that of other countries. One of the last acts of Minister Kasson before he gave place to Minister Pendleton at Berlin, says the Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star, was to send to the state department a debt statement of the various nations of Europe as recently published there. It makes a very interesting showing when compared with the debt of this country which some people suppose to be very large. Our debt, as every body knows, is a trifle less than $1,500,000,000. According to Minister Kasson's statement, Austria's debt is $1,750,000,000, Italy's $2,251,000,000, Russia's a little over $3,000,000,000, England's over $3,500,000,000, and that of France more than $5,250,000,000, making her debt per head $128, or more than five times as much for each individual as is the debt in the United States.

Dispatches from Washington give indications of a tacit understanding among many democratic politicians, including members of congress, looking to the practical abrogation of the civil service law. This is not to be attempted openly, but by indirection. They who are avowedly opposed to the law are too few in number to carry their point, and hence they seek the assistance of the much larger number who favor the law but are opposed to its enforcement. The latter class of politicians regard the law as a humbug, but are afraid of that large body of voters who think it a good thing. Part of the scheme is to push the law to extremes, that is, to "enforce it to death." To this end an effort is likely to be made to extend its provisions to all sorts of offices, as suggested by the mugwump press. For this it is believed that a big majority can be had in congress, and that the law can be so loaded down with commissioners, examiners and rules that it will fall of its own weight.

Maj A H Payson, of the army engineer corps, stationed in California, has hit upon the notable fact that the shoaling of the Sacramento river is a result of civilization. "As the fields are broken up," he says, "and agriculture commences, there is naturally a drift of earth and rocks which, falling into the river, form these shoals of which so much mention has been made lately." This grave opinion is given in the face of the fact that the shoals and in fact the whole river bed is formed of coarse gravel and black sand, that millions upon millions of yards of this stuff have been dumped into the upper streams during the past few years, and that there is no trace of alluvial matter in the deposits. It is the subject of infinite jest in California and is notable only as it illustrates how practically foolish a professional engineer may be.

The San Francisco Post learns that the troubles respecting the carriage of the Australian mails have given birth to a project for a subsidized line of steamers between Liverpool and Montreal, the transportation of the mails over the Canadian Pacific to Victoria, and thence by another subsidized steamer to New Zealand. The fact that Montreal's harbor is frozen for six months, and the circumstance that the Canadian Pacific runs in so high a latitude as to make frequent winter interruptions of a serious sort among the probabilities, indicate how impracticable this project is. The postoffice department and the steamship companies will no doubt, come to terms ere long, and so put an end to a good many schemes which speculative minds are now hopefully endeavoring to hatch.

The loss of the Haddingtonshire at Point Reyes recalls the Lupata disaster at Tillamook Head two years ago. The Lupata, like the Haddingtonshire, sailed in the darkness right into the rocks. Not a soul was saved but the dead and stark naked bodies of twelve men were found huddled in a little cove. It was supposed that they reached the shore and perished from the cold.

A TRACE OF BLUE BLOOD.

New York World.

Now and again the much boasted almost sacred conservatism of England receives a shock. It is a[illegible] it a fresh one that ought to electrify all England. The march of improvement, or otherwise the opening of a new street in London, comprises the destruction of a historic house—this is as historic as any of the houses mentioned in the recent Pall Mall revelations. It is the house in which Charles II lodged Nell Gwynn after he bought her for a political preferment from Buckhurst at third hand after he had [illegible] with two common play actors [illegible] of which found her in a night cellar.

But whe[illegible] William Aurelius Aubrey de Vere Beauclerc, Duke of St Albans, that he permits this outrage, [illegible] down the house in which the founder of his noble family, the first Duke of St Albans, was born. For that much from Piccadilly Nell Gwynn was the immediate mother of this knightly race of which the present representative, besides being a duke, is an earl, a baron, hereditary grand falconer, hereditary registrar to the court of chancery, deputy lieutenant of Lincolnshire, colonel of a regiment of rifle volunteers and has at his disposal two livings in the church of England.

In the American vernacular it takes mighty little to make a big family in England.

OFFICIAL ABSENTEEISM.

Even the Reformers Leave their Desks—Nobody on Duty at Washington

Special to New York Tribune.

WASHINGTON, Aug 11.—The question of official and clerical absenteeism in the government departments has been a constant theme of discussion for many years. When the republicans were in power the democratic newspapers, those vigilant sentinels on the watchtowers of "reform," failed not to sound a note of alarm whenever a cabinet officer or chief of a bureau was absent from his post of duty. If he happened to be absent from Washington on official business he was said to be "junketing" at government expense. These same newspapers informed their readers five months ago that there would be no more official absenteeism for four years to come, at least; that "special cars" for high government officers were a thing of the past; that public vessels would no longer be used to transport the president or members of his cabinet, and that there would be no more "junketing" at the public expense. For days and weeks the country was informed once in every twenty-four hours of the hour at which the president took his breakfast, and that at which the members of his cabinet seated themselves at their official desks. One democratic newspaper, which at that time aspired to become the "court journal" if not the official organ of the administration, went so far as to publish a sort of picture in which President Cleveland was represented sitting at his desk, without coat or waistcoat, immersed in official business, at 6 o'clock on Sunday morning. That picture would not be true now, and the president's breakfast hour or the moment at which each cabinet officer begins his daily duties is no longer heralded to the country.

Since May 1 the president and every member of his cabinet has enjoyed the luxury of "special cars" free of expense to themselves, and among the distinguished men who have been passengers on the Dispatch, a public vessel, are the president and Secretaries Whitney and Endicott. Secretary Bayard has furnished an example of "Jeffersonian simplicity" by traveling all the way to Missouri in a Pullman "special car" in order to impart to the citizens of that state his views regarding Thomas Jefferson. He returned to Washington by the same comfortable conveyance. Secretary Endicott also has spent several weeks in the West, traveling in a Pullman "special car" to "inspect" the military prison at Fort Leavenworth and the military posts at Omaha and Chicago. Railroad Commissioner Johnston has journeyed to the Pacific coast by easy stages in a "special car" to "inspect the railroads. Solicitor-General Goode has visited British Columbia at the expense of the government to demand the extradition of a defaulting postmaster—a duty which could have been performed as well by an officer near the scene of action at small expense. The record of official absenteeism during the first five months of this "reform" administration is imperfect in many particulars, but as partially compiled it shows that Secretary Whitney has been absent from his post of duty more than fifty days, Secretary Endicott more than fifty days, Secretary Manning thirty-eight days, Secretary Bayard twenty five days, Secretary Lamar twenty-five days, Postmaster-General Vilas ten days, Attorney-General Garland five days, Assistant Secretary Fairchild sixteen days, Assistant Secretary Muldrow fifteen days, Auditor McConnell twenty days, Commissioner Atkins twenty-five days, Commissioner Miller fifteen days, Commissioner Johnston thirty days, and Solicitor General Goode twenty five days. Other chiefs of bureaus have been absent for longer or shorter periods.

In some of the cases mentioned the absence was on official business—"junketing," as the democratic newspapers used to call it—and in two or three cases the absence was caused by illness. If such be the record of men in the fresh morning of their zeal for "reform," what may be expected when their fiery enthusiasm shall have abated somewhat, and after all the offices have been filled with democrats? There is another aspect of the matter which deserves to be mentioned. The heads of several of the departments have issued orders restricting the annual leaves of absence granted to clerks in pursuance of law and usage. The law authorizes the granting of such leave, with pay, of a period not exceeding thirty days in one year. It also permits the granting of leave with pay on account of sickness, properly certified to by a respectable physician, for a longer or shorter time in the discretion of the head of a department. This time has not been deducted heretofore from the regular leave of absence recognized by the law enacted by the last republican congress, which law has to a great extent reformed abuses arising from the indiscriminate granting of leaves of absence. In the last three months one or two cabinet officers have decided that no leave of absence with pay, whether on account of sickness or not, shall exceed thirty days in a year. A great many people will be inclined to think in regard to this matter that what is sauce for the cabinet officer or bourbon chief ought to be sauce for the clerk also.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

SOUTHERN OREGON MINES.—To those interested in mines and minerals, generally speaking, it has long been well known that Southern Oregon districts, and particularly Jackson and Josephine counties, are remarkably rich in deposits of the precious metals, and especially so in gold Many rich discoveries have been made in these localities, a case particularly notable being that of the celebrated Gold Hill ledge located in Jackson county one of the richest find ever made on the Pacific coast, if not in the world, considering its extent, over $300,000 having been taken out of a space not longer than an ordinary sized dwelling house Interest in the rich deposits, especially in quartz leads, has not been marked during the past decade or two, but now it promises to come to the front. One of the most marked indications of renewed activity looking toward a rural development of mining properties in Southern Oregon is that embraced in the recent movements of Messrs J. W Walsh, a newspaper man well known in Washington territory and H B Brugdon, a merchant of Ashland Jackson county These parties have bonded what offers, from all accounts to be some very valuable quartz mining properties, on Wagner creek, near Ashland, and are now busily engaged in developing them They consist of several ledges, long known to be valuable, having been worked some years ago by parties who failed to make them pay, on account of lacking a proper process for saving the gold which is very fine and to a certain extent alloyed with baser metals Messrs. Walsh and Brugdon, however have had assays made recently which not only shew the ore, of which there is huge quantities in sight, to be unusually rich, but also the less a s re method of saving the gold contained therein. They have already upon the ground an eight stamp mill, with the necessary water power in readiness for its operation, and have recently put in tunnels, and exposed ore enough to get down to actual business very shortly Mr Walsh is now there making arrangements to get work started as soon as possible, and everything now points toward a decided success for the venture that he has on hand

SATURDAY'S REGATTA.—The coming regatta of the Portland Rowing Association, which will be held on Saturday, will surpass anything that has hitherto been attempted, and the official programme, which will be announced to-morrow, is eagerly awaited It is understood that it will conform with the unofficial announcement made in THE OREGONIAN some time since the delay having been caused solely by the difficulty in allotting the prizes to the various races The single race will be between two junior scullers, Quackenbush, of the P R A., and McAlpine of the Willamettes The men are both expected to make a tough struggle for the honor of their respective clubs. McAlpine is the more experienced sculler, rides his boat very steadily pulls in good form and is a very good representative for the club Quackenbush is a smaller but more muscular man and will prove a formidable antagonist. The fours are not doing as much work as they ought. Grant is down from Salem, and his presence among the Willamettes a week before the race indicates that they mean business, and that the P R. A. crew will have better trained opponents than it has been used to meet. The Coloma, the Portia and a crew of sailors from town have entered for the ships boat race Two other ships are reported from Astoria, and will probably be here in plenty of time to put in crews, so that this may safely be regarded as one of the best events of the afternoon The P. R. A. furnishes a handsome challenge cup, which will be accompanied by individual goblets for the senior four Messrs Henrichsen & Greenberg and Albert Feldenheimer have also kindly offered cups, the latter for the single scull race, and several other donors have offered prizes, which will be immediately announced with the conditions of the several races to-morrow

SUICIDE OF A STRANGER.—Yesterday a man applied for lodgings at the Portland lodging house on Third street, between C and D, and was given a room in the third story About 8 o'clock last evening as the keeper of the house was going around placing fresh towels in the rooms he found the stranger lying on the floor beside the bed, dead, with a bullet hole in his forehead It appeared that he had seated himself on the edge of the bed and shot himself, and fell upon the floor From papers upon him it was ascertained that his name was Adolph Beller He had a traveling card from an Odd Fellows' lodge in Walla Walla, dated in June last. A gold watch, some money, and a letter written in German and addressed to his brother, were also found on his person He was neatly dressed, had dark hair, whiskers and moustache, and was apparently about 35 years of age The remains were taken charge of by the coroner, who will hold an inquest this morning A zinc trunk, large brown valise and roll of blankets were all the luggage Beller had The letter referred to above is of a private nature, but may be introduced at the inquest. In it he refers to domestic trouble A gentleman who is well acquainted with Beller, states that he has been employed for two years past at Schumacher's beer hall in Walla Walla. He owns a ranch near that town, and has a family He went out lately to work on the ranch but was not able to stand the fatigue and on coming back to Walla Walla was unable to find employment, and came down here in search of something to do Just what led him to commit the rash act still remains a mystery

THE O & C GRANT.—According to previous notice a meeting of the parties who hold land contracts with the Oregon & California Railroad company was held at Vest's hall Forest Grove, on Friday last at 2 P M About eighty persons were present, fully half of whom were directly interested in the tract recently declared restored to the government. The opinions of several of Portland's prominent attorneys were given, all to the effect that the land in question would be held by the company—twenty five miles from the line of the road between Portland and McMinnville it having been earned and the road accepted. R. Koehler, receiver and Judge A C. Bronaugh, attorney for the company were present and upon invitation explained matters to the satisfaction of all present. They conceded the forfeiture of the Astoria grant and gave notice that they were ready to refund moneys paid upon the surrender of contracts A general good feeling prevailed and all went to their homes to await with anxiety the result of the injunction suit now pending and to come off before Judge Deady on the 28th

READY TO CUT CHANNELS.—The work of sluicing out the bars in the Columbia with the steamship Walla Walla will begin to-day Some delay was caused by want of a boat to act as tender, to raise and move anchors, etc The wheel of the steamer Willamette Chief has been dismantled, and a hoisting drum built around the shaft, whereby anchors can be raised and lowered with great celerity The steamer Oklahama will act as a tug to move the Willamette Chief around Messrs Ainsworth & Co have, as they have for the past four years, tendered the use of the anchors and chains of the Coloma Capt Lowell has tendered the use of a large anchor and with the facilities at hand and the skill and experience of Mayor Gates we may expect soon to have a channel clear to the sea of sufficient depth to accommodate the shipping now on the way to this port. A ship is lying at the dock waiting to go down, and every hour of delay means dollars out of the pockets of her owners. So there is urgent necessity for the work, and it will be done with all speed practicable.

WHERE SHALL THE FOUNTAIN BE LOCATED?—A subscriber suggests that the Skidmore drinking fountain be located at the curb-stone immediately opposite the east gate of the postoffice, and argues "In this position it would be no material obstruction to the street, and at the same time be at probably the most frequently passed point in the city" The edge of a side walk is not an appropriate place for a fountain It seems to be the general sentiment that the fountain should be erected at the intersection of Front and A streets. This location is the choice of the executors of Mr Skidmore's estate, is favored by a majority of the members of the city council, and fewer objections can be offered against it than any other proposed site The funds are available, and it will be well to invite proposals at an early day

A CASE DEMANDING AID.—Misled by letters from a supposed friend in Western Washington, a man with a wife and three small children left Massachusetts in May and came West. With little means he made a struggle, but failed here He came to Portland on Friday, and yesterday noon paid his last dollar to the hotel man and took his family to the Ash street dock and applied to the State Board of Immigration The hotel man sent the family back to his house temporarily The man is a sober, industrious citizen, He is destitute, he and his little family He wants work Who will give it? Send word to State Board of Immigration.

COLORADO'S GOVERNOR.—Governor Eaton of Colorado, who arrived from Denver on Sunday, will go to Salem to-day and return this evening to take the steamer for San Francisco He is accompanied by his wife. Yesterday a party consisting of the Governor and Mrs. Eaton, Capt. Geary, son of the late Governor Geary of Pennsylvania, Messrs. Nagles and McGee and Col J. R. Wheat of this city went to Vancouver, where they and Gen. Gibbon were entertained at lunch at Gen. Tafton's. Governor Eaton is highly pleased with what he has seen of Oregon and Washington.

CŒUR D'ALENE MINING NOTES.—A B Levi, who has been in the Cœur d'Alene mines ever since the first boom, is now in the city He states that prospects were never better, so far as quartz mining is concerned, than at the present time The best evidence is that new capital and more machinery are being put in The Golden Chest claim, owned by Louisville, Kentucky, men, is doing wonderfully well so well that outsiders can not learn the yield A five stamp mill had been erected by the owners of this mine, and before it had been in operation a month another of the same capacity was ordered, the best possible proof that they had struck it rich An economical and quick way of stripping leads has recently been adopted Instead of men and wheelbarrows, mules and scrapers are used, and the cost of moving earth has been reduced from about sixty cents a yard to fifteen or twenty cents Several mines have been bonded to different parties in the East and sanguine people think that not less than $1,000,000 will be invested before the winter sets in Placers as usual are feverish. Periodically there are good clean-ups, always followed by very poor picking

THE COMING PRIZE FIGHT.—Yesterday the final deposit of stakes in the proposed fight between Riley and Campbell, on the 12th of next month, was made, and the men to-day start into "hard" training, that is to say they will do nothing else from now till the day of the fight except cultivate muscle and staying qualities, putting themselves entirely in the hands of their trainers. Duncan McDonald will look out for Campbell, who after to-day, will have quarters at the White house Riley had engaged Lawrence Sullivan of Scranton, Pennsylvania, as trainer, but it is understood that they had a falling out because Sullivan went to the Morgan-Edwards fight without taking Riley along, or something of the sort. Joe Taylor, who backs Riley, and Riley's father have telegraphed to San Francisco to learn whether the services of Jack Dempsey can be secured to train Campbell's opponent. Dempsey is a pugilist of some note, having won several fights

TRESPASSER ON A RESERVATION.—A. D Pambrun an old Frenchman, who was held to answer by United States Commissioner Fred Page-Tustin, of Pendleton, on a charge of 'returning into and upon the Umatilla Indian reservation after being removed therefrom by process of law,' has been brought here for trial in the United States court. In April last Pambrun was convicted of trespassing upon the reservation and fined $1000, in default of payment of which he was sent to jail When released he went back to Umatilla county and again trespassed upon the reservation It appears that he has some half breed sons and daughters who are married and live upon the reservation and he has a desire to be with them This desire might be tolerated did he not use his influence with his children to work against their best interests, and to subvert the authority of the agent and the intentions of the government.

BASEBALL.—Arrangements are in progress for a match game between the Portlands and the Stars at the Oaks next Saturday afternoon, Tierney and Gels to be the 'battery' for the Stars This will make a very close game. It is more than likely that the Pioneers of San Francisco, who won the city championship over the Haverly nine, will come to Portland All details have been decided upon, after considerable correspondence, and terms agreeable to the San Francisco players were arranged A positive answer as to whether they will come is now awaited If they come, the programme will be as follows A game with the Stars at the Oaks Saturday, September 5, and one with the Portlands on Sunday, the 6th then go to Seattle and Victoria returning here Saturday, the 12th, and playing the Portlands finishing the tour with a game with the Stars, Sunday, the 13th

NINE TRAMPS ARRESTED.—There has been a gang of tramps hanging out around the lower end of town and at Albina for some time There are about fifteen of them and they work this city early in the evening and about 9 o'clock slink off to their haunt. Last evening Policeman Belcher saw four of them come up from the Ainsworth dock and start out to work Front and First streets Each man took one side of a street and they started in systematically Belcher followed one of them till he saw the fellow accost five persons and then took him in and sent other policemen after the remaining three who were speedily captured A short tour around the streets discovered five more, making nine in all captured. By the time they serve out a month or so they will be ready to leave town

NEW BUILDINGS.—The work of cementing the outside of the new Portland Savings bank is completed, and work was commenced on the plastering yesterday The job will be completed in about thirty days The bricklayers have finished work on E S Kearney's new building adjoining the Gilman house The front of Philadelphia pressed brick, laid in black cement, and relieved with trimmings of white granite, presents a very striking and beautiful appearance It is the only building of the kind in the city and no pains or expense have been spared to make it an ornament to the city and a credit to its owner The Mulkey block, at the northwest corner of Second and Morrison streets, is rapidly approaching completion It is a very neat and substantial building and a great improvement to that part of the city

RECEPTION TO FATHER UPCHURCH.—Last night Hope Lodge No 1, Industry No 8 Unity No. 25, Portland No and Multnomah No 48, of the A. O U W tendered a reception to Father Upchurch the founder of the order at Masonic hall A large number of members of the order and friends were present. Introductory remarks of J A Child were followed by an address of welcome by Hon J F Caples In responding Father Upchurch spoke for half an hour in a manner which claimed the undivided attention of his audience T A. Stephens then made a brief address after which the floor was cleared and those who wished indulged in dancing which was kept up with spirit till a late hour

SOLDIERS TO BE FIREMEN ALSO.—The following order was recently issued by Gen Gibbon commanding department of the Columbia At every post in this department the troops will be organized into fire companies The various organizations will be designated as ladder, bucket, engine companies, etc., according to the means on hand, and at least once every month be drilled as such as in the case of actual fire At the hour designated by the post commander, the fire alarm will be sounded and the troops be exercised at the drill for one hour

SHOWED CONSIDERABLE "GALL."—Yesterday the Amity base ball club and friends from Victoria left for home Members of the club, going down First street to the depot in a coach displayed several brooms, and cheered as lustily as did the democrats when election news came from New York on the night of November 4th last Taking into consideration that they were badly beaten the first game here, and won the second only with the assistance of the two most important players kindly 'loaned' for the occasion the display of brooms was in questionable taste

THE GREAT TROT.—The Oregon and California road will sell tickets at excursion rates on the East and Westside divisions to those who wish to attend the great $5000 trot at City View park next Monday A great many people are coming in from Washington county and every part of the state will be represented Sorensen's Susie S is now in fine form and, it is said, shows more speed than Jane L It is likely that she will be chosen to represent Hambletonian Membrino's family on this occasion

A DISTINGUISHED EDITOR.—Mr Joseph Medill, editor of the Chicago Tribune, who arrived on Sunday, will remain in the city two or three days longer His wife and daughter accompany him They go hence to Puget sound and Victoria, where they will spend several days Mr Medill has never visited Oregon before Nevertheless he possesses a surprising fund of information about the country to which he is now making additions through his own observation

SOLID TRAIN LOAD OF WOOL.—A solid train, consisting of twenty cars loaded with wool bought by Messrs. Koshland Bros. for account of eastern manufacturers and packed in their Pioneer Wool warehouse in this city, left Portland last night over the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific. The train is equipped with air brakes and will be run through on special time This is the largest single wool shipment ever made from this coast.

RECOVERED JUDGMENT.—Yesterday morning, in the county court, O'Shea Bros., butchers, recovered judgment against G Dach for want of an answer to a complaint regularly served, for $343 82, together with costs and interest from August 10, 1885 The suit was brought on that date by plaintiffs to recover for meats sold and delivered to defendant during the month of July last.

MANAGER GROSS'S BENEFIT.—Saturday evening of this week the benefit tendered to Manager Gross by the Wallack's theater company will take place at the Casino. The bill will be "Esmeralda" and the third act of "Diplomacy." "Esmeralda" will also be given at the matinee. The box sheet opens at McKercher & Thompson's to-day.

DEDICATION.—Sunday afternoon the new Methodist Episcopal church at Sellwood was dedicated About 150 friends of the cause of Methodism from this city attended. Bishop Walden preached the dedicatory sermon A statement of the financial condition of the society showed a debt of $268. The bishop urged that enough be subscribed to wipe out the debt His appeal induced subscriptions to the amount of $318

LARGE CATTLE SALE.—John Stewart, Charley Elkins and D Wayne Claypool, of Beaver, Crook county, have sold to two Montana men, their entire bands of cattle, numbering in all about 3100 at $23.25 per head for yearlings and upward delivered at Wallula, and $22.50 at the ranch The former figures were accepted Stewart had 1100 head, Claypool 500, and Elkins 600

BROUGHT SUIT.—L Bianchi & Co., a New York firm, yesterday instituted suit in the state circuit court against Mellis Bros to recover $829 70 Plaintiffs allege that they sold and delivered goods of this value to defendants between December 1 1883, and May 1, 1884, and have never been paid for the same, as agreed

THE MISSIONARY CAR STARTED

Instructions to the Manager of the Exhibit—The Tour of Oregon's Advertisement on Wheels

Yesterday the Oregon exhibit car started on its eastern journey over the Oregon Short Line, under charge of Mr F W Allen There were added the following contributions to those already mentioned in THE OREGONIAN Handsome crayon portrait of Gov Moody, by E W Moore large photograph of Portland from Abell & Son's gallery barrel of best flour from the Portland flouring mills flour in sacks from the Capital Mills company of Salem, fruits, grains, etc., by Hon J W Crawford, Salem The immigration board gave the following instructions to Mr Allen "in writing:"

Dear Sir The commissioners of immigration place the specimen car and what of Oregon production it contains in your charge for its tour of the states herein named, trusting that you fully realize the deep interest they have in it and their desire that it shall be so managed as to time, place and opportunities that the object of its mission will be accomplished For the fifty four days between August 24 the date of your arrival at Omaha and October 20 the car ought to make and extended tour of the territory mapped out

To some extent the matter of time to be spent at the point named will have to be left to your judgment but the commissioners desire that you follow as closely as possible the line of travel and the programme given and when it becomes necessary to change you will advise the board by telegraph The commissioners wish to impress upon your mind the necessity of getting as many days of exhibition at as many different places in the designated territory as possible. No doubt it will be shown that the car can be side tracked at some interior town in an agricultural district or where a county fair is in progress and exhibited to a much better advantage than by spending at a state fair all the days allotted In such event you ought to change without delay

GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS

Upon arrival at Omaha, report to J M Morse general passenger agent of the Union Pacific The commissioners have promised to exhibit the car in that city the day of and the day after its arrival If possible place the car on exhibition in Council Bluffs on Saturday August 29.

Thence proceed to Oskaloosa where the car is promised until September 3 The following are the other dates Des Moines September 4 to 11 Chicago September 14 to 19 Indianapolis September 29 to October 4; St Louis October 5 to 10 Louisville Ky October 10 to 20 Between the 17th and 18th of September at Chicago and the beginning of the fair at Indianapolis on the 29th you will place the car on exhibition at interior towns on the route of travel between the two cities named It will add materially to have the route of the car well advertised

Hoping that you will use your best judgment to carry out the object of the board in planning the specimen car and as herein intimated and that you will regularly advise us of your progress we are yours respectfully

THE KELLOGG CONCERT

The musical event of the season and one which has been pleasurably anticipated by the music-loving people of Portland for some time took place at the New Market theater last evening, where the Clara Louise Kellogg company gave their first concert The fame of this justly celebrated artist is familiar to all, but it being her first appearance in this city all were on the qui vive to hear and judge for themselves The audience was one of the largest and most fashionable which has assembled in this theater for many a day and their hearty appreciation of the several numbers, and liberally bestowed applause bespoke a keen enjoyment of the entertainment. The programme throughout was a very excellent one, consisting of selections from works of Flotow Liszt, Gounod, Verdi, Balfe and other famous composers, as well as a few well chosen and charming ballads Miss Kellogg's singing of the Jewel song from "Faust gave her ample opportunity for displaying her marvelous execution and flexibility of voice, which seems as fresh and strong to-day and is easily handled as ten years ago, when she was in the very hight of her operatic triumphs. In response to an enthusiastic encore she gave in most charming style and with great expression, "Jeannette's Choice Her singing of the English ballad, "Polly Oliver, was in exquisite taste, and as an encore she gave in admirable style 'Suwanee River"

The selections of Miss Laura S Groves, the contralto were finely given, especially 'The Kerry Dance and Blumenthal's 'Answers' This lady possesses a most delightful voice, rich full and melodious and her execution shows that she has been trained in a thorough school She was heartily applauded, and in response to her second encore sang a delightful serenade most beautifully She won the entire audience, no less by the charm of her manner than by the pleasing quality of her voice

The violinist of the company Miss Ollie Torbet, contributed greatly to the pleasure of the occasion She is young, pleasing in manner and wields the bow with a skill that one would hardly credit her youth with possessing Her technique is fine she seems to possess complete mastery over her instrument, and she plays with a freedom from tricks and mannerisms that is charming to witness Her execution of the Andante and Scherzo (David) was perfect, and in response to an encore she played 'Den kla's variations' exquisitely Her execution of the first movement from De Beriot's concerto, was also artistic in every respect

The male voices, Mr Whitney Mockridge tenor, and Mr Ivan Morawski basso, are exceptionally fine Mr Mockridge possesses a voice of high range and pleasing quality, and his singing of "Come into the Garden Maud" as well as Then You'll Remember Me was warmly appreciated Mr Morawski's deep sonorous basso was heard to most excellent advantage in Deep Down within the Cellar" and 'The Holy Friar'

The pianist, Mr Adolph Glose is a thorough artist He plays with ease and perfect command of the keys, and produces the most brilliant effects apparently without effort. His execution of the 'Rhapsodie Hongroise, No 2 (Liszt) and Gottschalk's 'Pasquinade' was all that the most critical musician could demand The duet from "Martha" for tenor and bass, the "Spinning Wheel" quartette, and the quartette from "Rigoletto" were all given with artistic excellence

TO-NIGHT'S CONCERT

FROM NORTH BEACH

Down by the sad sea wave
Down where the billows roam

NORTH BEACH, Aug. 23.

To-day is one of the most pleasant of the season, and a number of private excursions leave for a day's ride or walk on the beach to Fort Canby, Ilwaco, or some secluded spot on one of the many bluffs where with pen or pencil a good novel and a pleasant companion one cannot help enjoying all the luxuries that are available at this popular seaside resort.

A lack of amusement generally afforded by the young people during the long evenings is more noticeable this year than ever before There has been three or four dances at Stout's and one or two concerts The fact of the matter is that the young ladies are too reserved among themselves and do not mingle as one community, but classify themselves into distinct crowds and are altogether too formal for such a young summer resort as North Beach We hope to see this abated next year so that those who contemplate a few days visit to this place may not be disappointed in having an enjoyable time

A large number at end the dances at the East Fort and camp Wednesday and Saturday nights

HERE AND THERE

A road is nearly completed from the North Beach to the road from Fort Canby to the beach

The largest crowd of the season enjoyed excellent bathing to-day, and the beach riding is perfect.

Clams and crabs are not as plentiful as last month, but porgies, rock cod, tom cods, etc. are caught in abundance and afford a palatable dish

A pleasant dinner party was held by several young ladies at one of our small vacated houses yesterday, in honor of some young gentlemen who are soon to pick up their beds and walk

Friday, in trying to walk around by the beach from Canby home, Joe Eates, the Bullock boys and young Giltner, came very near losing their lives, the tide overtaking them, causing them to remain on the bluff all night.

ASSOCIATED PRESS MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK Aug 24 —Governments very dull but quotations firm There was but a small business in the general railroad bond list to-day the prices were more advances than declines The feature was the purchase of $500 000 West Shore bonds by one house. Stocks opened irregular but underselling by room traders soon began to sag off and all day long was dull and heavy Breaks in Northern Pacific securities were perhaps the weakest feature The so called Gould and Vanderbilt stocks reacted moderately in sympathy Compared with Saturday night's closing price the average decline for the day throughout the list was 1 per cent Explanations given for the decline were that the Woerishoffer and Vanknberg parties were sellers and that a bear party had been trading in Saratoga which sold stocks all day Union Pacific was well held, and so were Omaha. A point on Union Pacific is that negotiations are pending for the sale of bonds to pay off the floating debt

The market for mining shares were very quiet to-day with the exception of renewed manipulation in Amie which again sold largely at prices ranging from 3 to 7 cents Horn Silver sold at $200, Bulwer $450 Durango $5 Union Consolidated $1

POLITICAL EXPRESSION

Buffalo Commercial Advertiser This administration is turning more rascals in than out.

New York Commercial Advertiser All things considered the party of Lincoln and Grant is a pretty good party to stick to

Chicago Inter Ocean Before the next great arrangement or violation of civil service rules the quartermaster of the mugwumps should advertise for bids for liquid whitewash The stock must be getting low in the barrel

Chicago Journal The rate of taxation has been raised in New York, and the assessment rolls are larger than ever before New York pays extravagantly for the luxury of democratic ring rule in the administration of its official affairs

New York Sun If the republicans ever get in again the democrats will have to get out with all convenient speed and rotation will continue to rotate and the golden cycle of the Fatonians will still be bashful about beginning to revolve

New York Tribune If the administration could make it clear that it would not encourage, and would not even permit a disturbance of the tariff at present, if it should have the power to prevent such a change it would thereby do much to restore public confidence

Baltimore Sun The repeal of the civil service law as an issue would wreck the party that advocated it The politicians will have therefore to bring themselves ultimately to see that the principle of filling offices through impartial examinations instead of boss dictation, is sound and must prevail

The Cincinnati Enquirer—pretty good democratic authority on political affairs in Ohio and Indiana—has a dispatch from Indianapolis stating that Exum Saint lately appointed special pension examiner for Indiana was, in June 1883 convicted in the federal court of violating the pension law and was fined $50 and costs, and there is still a case pending of similar import Saint is a leading democrat in Indiana and an ex member of the legislature.

Grant's Adsum.

Judge Hoar in Concord Memorial Address

Some of you will remember Thackeray's old colonel who dying when the bell struck nearby slightly raised his head and replied, as he used to when a boy at school where he learned his Latin because it was required when the roll was called Adsum! I am here! And what a fitting reply in its simplicity, but how immense in its comprehension would it be on the lips of our hero When the roll is called above to which all shall respond, may he not stand up in the presence of the hosts of warriors who have gone before, in full view of all the memories of his life, and say with honorable confidence, "Adsum! I am here!"—He, the savior of his country in his life—the reconciler of his countrymen in death!

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

THE WALLAUP POISONING CASE

NEW ORLEANS Aug 24—Nothing for a long time has created so much excitement here as the news of the arrest in Emporia Kansas of Mrs Minnie Wallace Wallaup, for poisoning her husband The marriage took place just a month to a day before the death of her husband Mr Wallaup had been a familiar figure on the streets of New Orleans He was a Virginian and a handsome energetic man of considerable wealth and ability He was about 45 years of age and a widower with two daughters the youngest a year older than the wife whom he recently married Minnie Wallace Wallaup is 17 years old Her father is James E Wallace, a lawyer and formerly United States commissioner Every one who saw her noticed her beauty of face and form and ladylike deportment Wallaup had met Minnie when a child and watched her bloom into womanhood The wedding took place at Covington Kentucky, July 24, and was a brilliant affair From her letters Mrs Wallaup seemed to be living a happy life with her wants all provided Her last letter received five days ago said Mr Wallaup was going on a short trip on business and that she was to go along Willie Wallace was eleven months older than Minnie He was a son of John D Willis who died in Florida several years ago His mother was a niece of Mrs Wallaup's mother Mrs Willis died when her boy was 3 years old and left him to the care of Mrs Wallace with whom he has lived ever since Willie is a delicate boy of slender build He was as much attached to his cousin as a brother Mr Wallaup asked the boy to go out west as his protege and intended to assist him in coming out in a successful career Her friends says the purchase by Mrs Wallaup of arsenic may be accounted for by the fact that she was addicted to the use of the drug for the sake of her complexion

A MOST MYSTERIOUS MATTER

EMPORIA Kan Aug 24 —Hon J R Wallaup's funeral at the M E church took place at 2 o'clock this afternoon with an immense attendance, filling the church and the adjacent streets many people coming from the surrounding country The interest manifested in the case surpasses all precedent here Mrs Wallaup retains her easy, cool and self possessed bearing and the attendance at the house last night might be called a levee for her She continues to assert her entire innocence She did not attend the funeral at the church as her presence might have given rise to great excitement

The coroner's jury met again this forenoon and took the testimony of Dr T D Jacobs the physician who attended Mr Wallaup It developed nothing new or startling The analysis by D Gardner of the stomach and other parts of Mr Wallaup's body did not determine the presence of arsenic or other poison and he has taken the parts to Kansas City for a more complete and lengthy analysis The coroner's jury has adjourned to Tuesday morning

Reports from New Orleans as to the standing of the Wallaup family there are conflicting, Mrs Wallaup remains at her residence in care of the sheriff, and has been treated with entire respect The mystery of the case seems to deepen and the interest to intensify hourly

MURDERED WHILE ASLEEP

ST LOUIS, Aug 24 —A dispatch from Vinita Indian territory says Frank L Cass and A J Goodykoode two prominent citizens of Vinita who left there a week ago for the Cheyenne and Arapahoe reservations to buy cattle were murdered while asleep in camp about two miles from the Sac and Fox agency last Thursday night The deed was committed for plunder

PROMINENT PEOPLE.

The committee which is preparing for Boston's memorial service in honor of Gen Grant have decided to invite either Roscoe Conkling or Henry Ward Beecher to pronounce the eulogy

The most valuable wedding present which the Princess Beatrice received was a magnificent tea and coffee service of old gold each piece being richly chased which was sent by the Empress Eugenie

I always model says Meissonier before I begin to draw and paint I like to settle all my difficulties before I take up the brush When that is done and I know exactly what I want to get, then I draw at my leisure

Postmaster Pearson of New York very vigorously denies the statement of Mr Lossiter Johnson that he (Pearson) kept his 1200 employés from voting at the last presidential election so as to promote the election of Cleveland

Edward Stokes is surprising New Yorkers by his rapid rise from his temporary obscurity in the Tombs and Sing Sing He has risen from a bar proprietorship to the presidency of a telegraph organization and is getting rich fast

Gen Horace Porter relates in Harper's Monthly that a woman in Maine once said to Gen Grant I've come down here a runnin on the clean jump nigh on to ten mile just to get a look at the man that lets the women do all the talkin

In speaking of his burial place the Utica Herald quotes Gen Sherman as saying My grave is bought and paid for I shall be buried at St Louis, where my children are buried When I die they can put me in there and drive a stake in to mark the spot

Mrs Nellie Sartoris still wears the $5,000 diamond ring which was one of her wedding presents from her father's republic life The day after the general's burial Mrs Childs of Philadelphia gave her a beautiful mourning chain of onyx and gold for the little silver watch she carries

Canon Farrar whose eulogy of Gen Grant delivered in Westminster Abbey attracted wide attention will visit America next month He expects to be at Quebec September 11 at Chicago on the [illegible] and will spend two weeks in New York and New England. He will lecture in several places and preach once in Boston and once in New York

Some of Bowman's rhetoric was as big as a sunflower but for downright exuberance of imagination commend us to the colored orator of New Bedford who at a memorial meeting in honor of Gen Grant said I believe that when such names as Hannibal shall have been lost in the vortex of oblivion the name of U S Grant shall shine like the morning star in the military diadem

PRESS PITH

A French missionary in China claims that absinthe is an infallible cure for cholera. It probably kills the victim before the cholera can touch it —New York Tribune

Wife—You don't tell me that Professor X has been struck dumb Husband Yes last night. And he was master of seven languages Wife Is it possible. And was he struck dumb in all the seven? —New York Sun

The wickedness of a great city When I came to New York, said a countryman, I allers go round holdin on to my pocketbook like grim death You can't tell what minute some feller may rob you The city is full of thieves Do you carry much money with you? I've got about $200 now I sold an old Loss this mornin that I slicked up for $200 that wasn't worth $ 5 I see in a minute that the feller I sold him to didn't know nothin' bout hosses —New York Sun

A New Translation

Harper's Bazar

Little Sammy was looked upon as quite a prodigy in the family It was customary to have him show off for the entertainment of guests. One morning Mr Tursal Now Sammy get your Bible and read to us beginning with the verse at which you chanced to open This was to convince his hearers that Sammy had not been merely familiar with certain chapters only

Having opened the book, Sammy read it and measured ones Neither do men light a candle and put it under a bushel etc

A Fiasco and Back Down

Minneapolis Tribune

The disgraceful attempt of Secretary Whitney to make democratic capital by attacking John Roach has resulted in a complete fiasco and back-down Under the arrangement now concluded, the Roaches go on with the completion of the cruisers as the government's agents They are still practically working under the old contract. It is understood that the Dolphin is to be accepted by reason of which the government's acceptance having been reduced

A Rascal Turned Out

Chicago Inter Ocean

Turn the rascals out and the president found one Mullin of Cincinnati in jail for imprisoning 300 inoffensive colored men and preventing them from voting, and he executed the order with neatness and dispatch and turned him out with a Bless you my boy, go and do some more likewise That's a case where a rascal was turned out who was not an offensive partisan

Whence Comes the Name

Of SOZODONT It is derived from two Greek words signifying to preserve the teeth and it deserves its title, for there is no preparation which will do this more rapidly surely and pleasantly The consumption of SOZODONT is immense.

Why he Quit the Love Business.

New York Mercury

A number of gentlemen were talking about love in a saloon

"I've always had bad luck in love affairs" said Mr Peterby "The first woman I loved died"

"How about the next one?"

"She ran off with another man, and the third one became my wife Then I became discouraged and quit the business."

The Bicycling News, London, England, says that St. Jacobs Oil is without doubt one of the most useful articles a wheelman can have, in case of a sprain or bruise.

NASBY

Mr. Nasby and his Friends are Distressed about the President's Summer Vacation.

CONFEDERATE X ROADS (Wich is in the State uv Kentucky) Orgust 4, 1885 —The noosepaper wich comes to the Dimocrisy uv the Corners is the unbilikle cord wich connex us with the world The party hez allus taken one noosepaper, desirin to be intelligent I reed it to the rest uv em interspersin the noose with original remarks by myself. Ther wood be more papers taken by us ef more uv us cood reed Ignerence is to be deplored but it hez som pints in its favor Possibly ef more uv the Dimocrisy uv the Corners cood reed ther woodn't be so many Dimocrats

Our paper come yesterday, and the first paragruff wich I opened onto wuz to the effect that the President was packin his trunk for a two months absence in the mountains of Noo York

I wich my all last summer to the eleckshun uv Grover Cleveland and sittin in sad drouthiness in Bascom's dependin for my likker on the chance invitashens from good natured strangers wich are too keerless to notice the tiger like anxiety wich I regard em, but

The President is packin his trunk

The postoffice at the Corners, wich belongs to me by common consent hez been held for years by an offensive partizan one who by his own confeshun wood hev voted the Republikin tikkit regerly if we hed permitted him to vote at all Grover Cleveland by one stroke uv his pen cood change all this and make the hearts uv those which I owe happy but

Bascom turns over the private ledger in wich for all these years he hez kept my account and sighs like a furnis He is losin money every day becoz I hev not the money to pay for likker and he not bein able to continner on tick forever the wheels uv trade is blocked The removal of the bigger Lubbock and my appointment wood remedy all this by restorin the equilibrium but it is not done

The President is packin his trunk

Deekin Pogram hez hed his eagle eye fixed on the Collectership ov Revnoo for years and hez bin waitin fur it so long that Bascom holds a mortgage on his farm for all it is wurth That place is held by an offensive partizan which hez voted the Republikin tikkit allus hevin gone so farez to forse his way to the poles with a loaded revolver in spite uv our protests (But his vote wuzn't countid that time) The Deekin sits still and sad long and waitin but

The President is packin his trunk

Issaker Gavitt hez wanted the custom house sence he wuz 3 years old His servis in the Confedrit army attests his Dimocrisy He hez waitid so long that he hez become almost idiotic thro hope deferred He is still waitin but

Wat rite hez the presidet to desert his post and go way so far that we wich want the offises hev not the meens to pay railrode fare to reech him Wat rite hez he to leeve Washington afore he gets all [illegible] papers and make the changes wich we insist he ought to make Wat rite hez he to pack his trunk and git out anyhow

Carryin with him a trunk implies a long stay I dont pack a trunk when I go away I scorn a trunk A black carpet bag stuffed with paper to keep [illegible] at hotels is all I need. But he forsooth must pack a trunk

I am not reckless nor hasty but I warn President Cleveland that this packin uv trunks wont do He hez dooties to perform and the demokrisy insist that he performs em We dont keer so much about polisy we ain't willin to swaller any disappointment, but we want the offises On that question we are unanimous And we want em now He can't sine commishuns in the Adirondax and afore he gets back I shel hev died uv drouth He must remember that four years hence the dimocrisy may pack their trunks Let him beware The starved tiger is the most ferosius

ONE OF VILLARD'S ABORTIVE SCHEMES

How the Transcontinental Acquired the Ownership of a Lot of Wisconsin Central Stocks

Among the assets of the Transcontinental are [illegible] shares of Wisconsin Central stock The St Paul Globe thus explains how and for what purpose they were obtained

The history of this investment by the Oregon Transcontinental dates back to when Villard was president of the Northern Pacific road A glance at the map of Dakota reveals a grave danger with which the Northern Pacific has been threatened for some time that is the invasion of its territory by those powerful corporations the Milwaukee & St Paul the Chicago & Northwestern and the Rock Island roads in their rivalry race for new business in southeastern Dakota. When Villard became president these companies were steadily pushing their lines into the James river valley northward toward the main line of the Northern Pacific. It was obviously but a question of time when the extensions would reach and cross it and thus become direct competitors. Villard cast about for some effective means of protecting his company from the injury of such competition as the command of some means to hurt the aggressors more than they could hurt the Northern Pacific This means appeared to be the best offered by the control of an independent line to Milwaukee and Chicago There were other strong reasons for seeking the control of such a line in the interest of the Northern Pacific In the first place the companies owning the existing St Paul lines also owned lines to Omaha with a long haul on Pacific coast business that gave St Paul which constituted a natural temptation for them to divert business from the Northern Pacific Next the Northern Pacific with its vast [illegible] Milwaukee and Chicago could [illegible] much stronger influence upon traffic [illegible] and upon the flow of immigration than at St Paul and Minneapolis Finally at Chicago the Northern Pacific could more effectually promote the growth of St Paul and Minneapolis and of its territory as far as such growth depended upon favorable traffic rates from the East In casting about for a desirable line Villard found that it could be most readily and economically obtained from a connection with the Wisconsin Central system The latter was to be connected at all events with the main line by the extension of the Wisconsin division to Ashland. Investigation showed that a good direct line to Milwaukee and Chicago could be had by building not over 100 miles of new road from the Wisconsin Central terminus at Chippewa Falls to St Paul at a cost not exceeding $2,000 000 Accordingly, the project was taken actively in hand under the auspices of the Oregon Transcontinental company though it did not complete what it commenced on account of its embarrassed condition but for what work it did accomplish it was paid for noting in Wisconsin Central stocks The road was afterward completed by the parties controlling the Wisconsin Central
